4. Full support of the report and recommendations of the Student Committee on Probation.
5. Keeping alive all negotiations made in the past for completion of Stage II of the Students' Union Building in the near future.

ALAN ANDERSON

It is time for a change of government at the University of Alberta. The Law Faculty has been in power for the last three years, and it is time for another faculty to take over. What better combination of faculties than Education-Agriculture. It is a mistake to say that we have not experienced good government in the past three years. There has been much good work done by the past presidents and the past students councils.

Platform:

If elected I pledge myself to carry on the work of student government to the best of my ability, and to co-operate with the Faculty of the University to bring about even better student faculty relations than, now exist. I would like to see the Parents Weekend continued and improved in the next year. I would like to see better relations between the different faculties on the campus with less friction between faculties.

I would also like to see stricter controls on Students' Union funds to assure proper distribution to bring maximum benefits to all students.

I shall do my utmost to continue negotiations on stage two of the Students' Union Building in hopes that it will be possible to begin its construction in the next two years.

I shall also see that a full study is made on the report on probation and that proper action is taken.

Election Speeches Fri. Morn Con Hall

Current Students' Union election promises to be one of the liveliest campaigns in recent years. Three presidential candidates competing for office this year are Ed Stack and Tom Walsh, both second year law students, and Al Anderson, fourth year Ag student. The election campaign swung into action Wednesday and already scores of posters and handbills have flooded the campus. Early developments indicate close competition for most positions, and speculation runs high among campus observers.

Campaigning will swing into high gear Friday morning with the election speeches being given in Con Hall at 11:30 a.m. Classes have been withdrawn for the hour and all students are urged to come and hear the candidates.

Between now and voting day next Wednesday, March 12, the candidates will make personal appearances at student gatherings and elsewhere. Bands will entertain the crowds in Arts Rotunda.

All members of the Students' Union are eligible to vote.

Only Arts and Science students may vote for their faculty representatives in separate faculty elections.

Positions filled by acclamation are: Student Treasurer, Graham Le Bourveau; Vice-Chairman UAB, Geoffrey Mortimer, both in second year commerce; President of the Musical Association, Doug Williamson, 2nd year Law.

Those contesting for Vice-President of the Union are Helen Steeves, 2nd year Arts and Science; Joan McFarlane, 3rd year Education; and Shirley Stinson, 4th year Nursing.

Two candidates are running for each of the other seven council posts.

Al Armstrong, 2nd year Law, opposes George Asmann, 3rd year Education for Secretary of the Students' Union.

June Richards, 3rd year Arts and Science, and president of the Theatrical Arts Directorate since January, opposes Jim Redmond, 1st year Law.

Platform:

If elected I will aim for:

MIKE FARRELL

In the main, my platform is based on people, not merely the voting percentage of the University, but on all of the student body. It is my firm belief that a University is comprised not only of books and lectures but of people, Joe Doaks from Coffee Corners and Julie McPherson from Crawling Creek. If elected, it will be my endeavor not only to meet these people, but to hear and carry their views and wishes through proper channels, constantly striving to assist and guide these views and wishes to completion.

My platform contains no radical policies. I neither advocate change nor the introduction of policies which are beyond the scope of our endowments and capabilities to complete. Along with the plans and policies so necessary to everyday student life, I will endorse any policy which I think will bring acclaim and recognition to our campus.

We are a relatively young campus, possessing few alumni and situated in an almost uninhabited and unexploited province. That we lack many things is evident, but the obtaining of these things in any manner other than the one we are now pursuing is beyond my comprehension.

I would like to see football, a new gymnasium and swimming pool, more books in the library and innumerable other changes and improvements, but I do not wish to see them before we are able to appreciate them, neither do I relish the thought of the University of Alberta, either staff or students, taking upon themselves any obligations which cannot be fulfilled in a manner befitting Albertans.

In conclusion, I address myself to the conservative and almost restrictive policy of a slow and gradual expansion of the University and if elected I pledge my support to the President of the Students' Council, and will endeavor to co-operate with him and fellow members of the Council to give a degree as my platform will allow.

PHOTO CREDITS

Credit lines for all election photos goes to Harold Reid.

Overhead at Con Hall: "Are you taking this lying down?"

"No, The Gateway is."

Secretary Students' Council

AL ARMSTRONG

Platform:

Election promises are meaningless in the type of student government we have at this University. The Students' Union is not a policy making body, but rather a co-ordinating group between the University Administration and the Students' Union, and it is in this role that I feel its members should be chosen both for their experience in dealing with student activities and in presenting the students' views to the administration, for it is here that decisive and intelligent decisions are important.

GEORGE ASMANN

Platform:

I feel greatly honored to have been chosen to run for the position of Secretary of the Students' Union, and I shall endeavor to devote my time and abilities to the position as best I can.

Promises all too often are made and broken. However, I feel that I can best fill the position by actively considering all situations before the Students' Union with an open mind, by working for close relationship among all faculties with the idea of co-operation by all means in a non-partisan manner, and by acting in accordance with the constitution of the Students' Union.

Treasurer University Athletic Board

SYD BERCOV

I have participated in various sports, such as basketball, hockey and football, for a number of years, and as a result, I fully appreciate the needs, requirements and importance of an athletic body.

Being a student of the School of Commerce, I am to a certain degree versed in the proper and efficient handling of records and funds, and so realizing how important it is that these functions should be administered in an efficient manner, I feel that I should be able to contribute towards that end. I solicit your vote as Treasurer of the Students' Athletic Board, and if elected, I shall do my best to justify the confidence you have placed in me.

Vice-President Students' Council

HELEN STEEVES

Extra-Curricular Activities:

1. Vice-President of Fresh Council '50-'51.
2. Publicity Director of Radio Society '50-'52.
3. Announcer on CKUA with Radio Society '50-'52.
4. Variety Shows '50-'52.
5. Fencing Club '50-'52.

Platform:

1. More co-ordination of groups and clubs on the campus so there will be no conflict of functions.
2. Furthering of public relations by such functions as varsity guest weekend, civic and parliamentary wakened, mixed chorus and sports week.
3. If elected I will do all in my power to support student affairs and contribute to an enthusiastic student government.

JOAN McFARLANE

Extra-Curricular Activities:

1. Member of University Pandas basketball team for three years.
2. Member of council of Women's Athletic Association.
3. Gateway Sports Writer.
4. Intersarsity manager of Tennis and Golf.

Platform:

1. Promote public relations as official hostess of the student body.
2. Give an independent and considerate vote in executive meetings which determine the council agenda.
3. Advocate the placing of another phone in the Arts Building and a free phone in the Library.

SHIRLEY STINSON

Platform:

It has come as a very pleasant surprise to me and a great honor to have been nominated for the position of Vice-President of the Students' Council. I believe that the role of Vice-President is largely a supporting one in most organizations, but with the Students' Council it is also, and perhaps predominantly, a social one. A year on Council acquainted me with its activities, and I would welcome the opportunity of serving in this executive capacity.

I wish to state simply that if I am elected, I shall devote the best of my time and ability to these duties.

Let's Do It Again

The time of year has again arrived when the students of Alberta come to choose the body who will lead them through the next session.

Joe College, U. of A. type, can congratulate himself upon the councillors he elected last year. The incumbent Council have done a sterling job, and have led the campus to one of the biggest years in its history.

Now it is up to all of us to do it again. The names and faces of the candidates are before you elsewhere in this issue. Look them over, and give them all some thought.

The Council is the archstone of the campus, and (in spite of what the Lead Key says) the key as well. It is of the utmost importance that the right people be elected.

There are a large number of people running this year, and the election promises to be a thriller. Whether or not it is depends on the voters. Nothing is duller than a "no-contest" election.

The candidates are doing their part, campaigning, making speeches, and spending their hard-earned money on posters, blotters, etc. The rest is up to you.

When the polls open next week, every student should case his ballot. There is nothing more worthless, nothing more harmful, than an unexercised franchise. Don't be a goat—vote.—H.F.M.

CORRESPONDENCE

UNFAIR SITUATION

Editor, The Gateway.

Dear Sir:

May I have space in your letter column for a few comments on an unfair situation existing in the faculty of education.

At present, an education student proceeding from a B.Ed. degree to a B.Sc. degree needs five years and a summer session to complete his program. An Arts student who gets his B.Sc. first and then his B.Ed. completes his program in four years and one summer session.

This is an unfair situation, and the time for both routes should be equalized. Perhaps Dr. LaZerte, who spent so much time to increase the education program from three to four years, could spend a little time to remedy the "discrimination" he has caused. I shall not make any sarcastic remarks at present, and would like to see the University Administration reply to what steps they plan (if any) to equalize the programs.

Yours truly,
EDUCATION STUDENT.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

Editor, The Gateway.

Dear Sir:

There is a great opportunity for one or two University of Alberta students to enjoy a marvellous trip to India, an educational experience certainly as valuable as a whole year at University. As a delegate to last year's seminar, let me give you some idea of the values obtained from a seminar without going outside of Canada, and what an opportunity is being offered this year.

The understanding, the insight, the different perspective of ourselves and of our relation to the rest of the world, was a very important result. Knowledge of the world in which we live, the problems that face this world, the different attitudes to these problems, and possible ways of solving them were pointed out. Lasting and extremely interesting friendships were made, that will carry the fellowship and the enjoyment found at the seminar through many more years.

Any student returning to the university next year is invited to submit an application, which he can obtain at the SUB office. Don't miss your big chance!

FRANK SUTER.

CALLING DR. COOK!

Editor, The Gateway.

Dear Sir:

Does this letter concern you? Have you ever felt, since coming to Varsity that, perhaps, had you learned a little more about the courses offered here, you would be in another faculty today? I have talked to several students who feel exactly that way, and having in mind that it would be appreciated by many, and an article would be written about it, I am writing to you.

The Gateway, explaining these points and others to novices like me in the sporting world.

INTERESTED.

their opinion wasted a year, are going to switch next fall.

Under the present set-up, if a high school student is thinking about university, he usually talks it over with his principal. The principal quite possibly knows very little about it, or is biased. He may tell a student how "rough" a certain course is and imply that the student has not got the intelligence to make it, whereas interest and hard work count for much more.

After consulting his principal, the student usually writes to the university for information on various courses; he receives calendars which tell him very little of what he wants to know.

A book should be made up with a section written on each faculty, say, by someone who has taken the course and can write well on it. He could tell the student what is wanted—what the future probably holds in store for him after taking the course; what kind of life he can expect and what remuneration he will receive. Such information would be a great aid to young men and women in choosing their vocations. The book could be published by the university and a copy could be sent to the principal of each high school in Alberta to be loaned to the students on request.

What are your opinions on the subject? Should high school students be enlightened or should university remain the Big Mystery?

F. G. LeDEZ.

VIVE LA DIFFERENCE!

Editor, The Gateway.

Dear Sir:

Mary Louise, your correspondent of last week, has swept the field with her article "Pro Femina", leaving us presumptuous males stripped off our last defence. We have no alternative but to surrender. If we turn to the right we are confronted by the startling discovery that child-bearing is beyond our capabilities; if we attempt to escape to the left, we are faced by our worst fears confirmed—"feminine intuition" is a fact. In desperation, we summon our wits, only to be driven back by a horde of irrefutable statistics; turning to what we had fondly relied on as a last ditch defence, our physical prowess, we are advised, before we can rattle a muscle,

MAC AND MIXED LOUNGE

Editor, The Gateway.

Dear Sir:

The Students' Council deserves praise. The success of their undertakings this year has been a credit to the university and a pleasure to all of the students. But have they forgotten something?

These days of lowered registration and climbing prices caused a considerable cut in Students' Union expenditures. Hockey players, football, Political Science Club, Alarm, the Mixed Chorus, and other members of the Cultural Association are a few of the groups who cut their budgets or have paid for entertainment from their own pockets.

The budget meeting passed this expenditure. That is where the criticism should have come, but that doesn't stop the Council from considering how they spend the students' money. If they honestly feel that the proposed $190 Council party is the best way that this money can be spent, that is fine. But maybe they didn't consider the whole question. The Macdonald is a very nice hotel, but for a dance for 20 couples I don't think it can beat the Mixed Lounge for beauty and congenial surroundings. A banquet first, at the Cafeteria for $80, a four-piece orchestra in the SUB for $40, would save $70 plus the extra that the Council members would spend themselves. Or maybe Athabasca could be used. It may be that the facilities at the University are not good enough for the Council, and that they have really reconsidered the question carefully, in which case I would say "Go ahead." But—maybe they didn't.

FRANK SUTER.

Yours truly,
RON MACLEAN.

(Ed. Note: Vive la difference!)

PLEASE EXPLAIN

Editor, The Gateway.

Dear Sir:

In a recent issue of The Gateway (Feb. 22), there appeared in the write-up of a hockey game the following words: "Don Donnelly... raked up a hat trick for the Bruins, the first for the club this year."

In the Feb. 2 issue in a write-up of an Alberta-Saskatchewan women's basketball game, the Huskies lineup was as follows: Clark 7, Brees 8, L. Fahlan 6, Stephenson, Young 16, McKay 14, Townsend, Fahlan, Raycraft 3, Hagerty, Total 46.

I have the following questions, and wish to emphasize that they are genuine, and not intended at decision: What is a "hat trick"? Also, what do the numbers mean in the lineup? I had it figured that they were the individual scores, but they add up wrongly. They couldn't very well be the numbers the girls wear on their backs, because either some go without, or more than one share each number. Also, in the latter case, Fahlan has two numbers, unless there are two Fahlans on the team, which is conceivable. This is all speculation, though. I

SOUR GRAPES

By Duck 'n Lou

The Varsity Golden Bears, collegiate champions of Alberta, were edged out 48-46 by the Waterloo Meteors in a game that was the feature attraction of a highly successful Second Annual Athletic Carnival.

A late drive by the Meteors was climaxed by Art Kruger, when, with but seconds to go, he scored the winning basket. Ed Lucht and Bob Pickell, respective centres, were the stars of the contest offensively, but seemed unable to cope with each other defensively. However, both these big men have some highly developed "moves", and Canada's Olympic team could hardly miss one or both were selected.

The UBC Thunderbirds, fresh from the American Evergreen Conference will be here March 13 or 20 to take on the Bears in the first game of the Western Intercollegiate Finals.

The coming of this "Americanized" team to our campus sets us to daydreaming on what might be the importance of this series if this were a large American College. Gazing into our crystal ball we see the following story under the here headlines, "UBC Birds vs. Golden Bears."

Thunderbirds Here Thursday

The UBC Thunderbirds, Rocky Mountain Conference Champions, will be at our War Memorial Field House next Thursday to take on the Golden Bears. As you know our Bears edged the Pedunk Teachers last week to emerge as Skyline Conference Champions.

However, we are not concerned so much with the outcome of the coming series as with its effect on coach Maury Van Vliet. It might be said that he is not in the tower with his head on the block. You remember Van Vliet as the five-letter man who was brought (or bought) in from Oregon three years ago on a three-year contract. He just missed the Canadian Championship two years ago, failed miserably last year, and is taking what could be a final try this season.

You will also probably remember Van Vliet's running partner in this escapade as Ed "Two" Lucht, the pro brought in from the Oregon Kings. An ugly rumor circulated at the time that Lucht had already played two years for Coach Van Vliet at Oregon. It was further insinuated that Lucht came here on a wagon, but that the journey was made so fast by ten gross of green stone lids placed in the bottom of the wagon.

Team Has Alum's Support

Well, to bring you up-to-date, some of our well-known alumni who sanctioned the "student exchange" so that he could be near his original tutor have noticed a distinct drop in their income tax. They are dissatisfied, to say the least, and the final chapter in this story may well be written by Van Vliet and his crew next weekend. As we mentioned before, Van Vliet's head is on the block and he must deliver.

The Bear team, however, has not had a bad season. It managed to defeat some of the top teams in the nation while winning the Toronto National Invitation Tournament back in December. It was from their performance in this tournament that four members of the team were picked to the "Montreal Weekly's" All-Canadian team.

Student Spirit at a Peak

With student interest reaching an all-time high, a capacity crowd of 15,000 is expected to jam the Field House. A huge "pop" rally was held last night, at which Coach Van Vliet closed his stirring address with the following remark:

"They are a fine bunch of boys, and win or lose, this is our year" (shades of Stukus). However, if they lose, next year will probably not be Van Vliet's. Two possible successors to this $14,500 a year position have been mentioned. They are Ev Shelton of Wyoming and Adolph Rupp of Kentucky.

It is this corner's guess and hope that the Bears won't go under, and that Van Vliet will get an eleventh hour reprieve.

See you at the game . . . by the way—advance ticket sales are going fast . . . shloot.

Dancing Display By Phys Ed Presented On Athletic Night

Under the direction of Miss Pat Austin, Director of Winery, it was performed with cal Education, 24 Phys. Ed. students presented a colorful review of Latin, folk, and modern dances at the Athletic Night on Friday.

The review opened with several South American numbers, including Jealousy, I Got Ideas, and the sprightly La Cucaracha. Next, seven girls in flowing rose gowns gave a modern version of the classic, semi-religious Pavane.

Following this an English Morris dance, The Blue-eyed Stranger, was presented. An outgrowth of sword dancing, it was performed with handkerchiefs. The review ended with a lively version of the Hill-Billy favorite, Skip-a-My-Lou.

A big attraction towards the end of the evening was the Square Dance Competition. Seven "squares" strove to follow the calling of Miss Pat Austin and Don Davis above the accompaniment of Jack Macdonald and his Campus Corral Kids. Grand winners after a three-way tie was a dance off, with a group of first year Education students.

1200 See Display Of Varsity Athletics

Second annual Athletic Carnival, held last Friday night in conjunction with Varsity Guest Weekend at the Drill Hall proved to be a smashing success.

Over 1,200 fans jammed into the local sports emporium to take a peek at a cross-section of the Varsity indoor athletic program. Two or three hundred more wandered over to the Wauneita Lounge to watch a variety of movies.

Senior men's and ladies' basketball games were main attractions of the show. Additional features were senior men's volleyball match, a badminton exhibition, tumbling and dancing displays, and a square dance competition.

The Waterloo Meteors-Varsity Golden Bears contest featured thrills galore. In this set-to, the Meteors squeaked through for a narrow 48-46 decision over the collegians, although the varsity quintet had a nine-point lead with only five minutes in the encounter.

Kruger Hero
Meteors fought back in the latter part of the game and tied the score with only a minute left. Art Kruger was the big hero. He tossed in the winning basket, and helped his teammates to contain the never-say-die Bruins.

Bob Pickell paced Waterloo with 22 points while Varsity centre Ed Lucht led the campus cagers with 16. Don Macintosh snaggled 14 for the Bears.

The game was played in two fifteen-minute halves.

The other basketball game was equally as close. Starry Elie Macintosh notched the winning basket in the final minute to give the Army and Navy Fats a 13-11 victory over the University Pandas. Fats are city league champs.

Latvians Trounced

Varsity volleyballers took both matches from the Latvians, trouncing their city loop rivals 11-2 in the first and then edging them 8-5 in the second.

At the same time, Hank Pickup and Pete Willson put on a crowd pleasing shuttle display, competing with the voice of program director Len Cooper and the rousing marching music of the band.

Addresses

A dance display in two sections was put on by the second and third year Phys. Ed. classes. Between the two parts, short addresses were given by Public Relations Officer Ivan Head, Union President Pete Lougheed, and President Stewart.

A tumbling performance and a square dance competition followed, and a sock dance rounded off the evening.

A bigger and better program is expected next year with the addition of boxing and wrestling. The Assault-at-Arms which was held Saturday night put the damper on the idea this year.

The UAB wishes to extend thanks to Mr. John Ducey, the Marshall-Wells Co. Ltd., H. G. Spalding Ltd., and the members of the 1951 World Series Film. Other films shown were of Edmonton Eskimo football games, with George Fosteryga acting as commentator, and a ski short.

Hats off to Dr. Maury Van Vliet and the entire Physical Education staff for a job well done. Here's hoping that next year's show will be an even better one.

Olympic Playoffs With UBC 'Birds In Near Future

The University of British Columbia Thunderbirds basketball team will be playing the Golden Bears here in the near future. This series will be for the Western Intercollegiate basketball championship. The winners of that series will play the winners of the Canadian Senior Men's Olympic finals for the right to represent Canada at the summer Olympics.

The chances of the Golden Bears in this race for the Olympics are excellent. The Vancouver papers have picked the Waterloo Meteors as the top contenders for the Olympics, which places the Golden Bears in a very favorable light, as the two teams have been running neck and neck all year.

Further particulars will appear in next edition of The Gateway when dates will have been definitely set and more complete information will be available.

Alberta Boxers and Wrestlers Take Honors Saturday Night

University of Alberta boxers and wrestlers made a clean sweep of all trophies at stake at the annual Assault-at-Arms held in Varsity Gym Saturday night. They won the Neilson Aggregate Trophy, the two team trophies, and the two individual trophies.

Win On Points

Alberta boxers split even with Saskatchewan in winning three out of the six boxing bouts, and took the Dean Howe team award on points. U of A's George Mazurenko, by doing some good counter-punching to gain his decision in the light-weight division, won the Beaumont trophy for being the best boxer of the night.

Alberta's wrestlers also came out on top in the battle for the Dr. Rawson team award by taking four of their six bouts. Judged best wrestler on the card was Alberta's Mike Shysh, who came through with a fast two-fall win to take his bout and the Beaumont Trophy.

Only KO

Harvey Telford scored the only K.O. of the night over Len Nesbitt by dropping him early in the second round of their hand-swinging featherweight 80. Louis Gazdarica, despite a good deal of stalking, was unable to solidly tag the back-peddling Gene Boland of Saskatchewan in winning their middleweight contest.

Mighty Mike

In the wrestling, a total of four falls were scored in the six bouts. Two of them were by heavyweight Mike Shysh, who completed the pinning in a twinkling once his opponent had hit the canvas each time. Two of Saskatchewan's grapplers, Harvey Christensen and Elson Hansen each scored a fall in their bouts.

Herman Dorin, on top nearly all the time in his light heavyweight fight, was unable to score a fall.
